

The pirates meet the minibeasts.

The pirates dropped anchor near the island. They were very hungry, thirsty and miserable. Their biscuits had been full of beetles, their apples all had worms in, and their barrels of water were empty. All their clothes were full of itchy fleas.

The island had lots of lovely fruit. There were coconuts,

pineapples, oranges, bananas, and mangos.

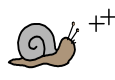

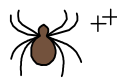

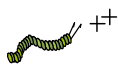

And there were streams with clear, fresh water.

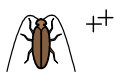

The only bad thing was that there were also new minibeasts.

The pirates were surrounded by flies, mosquitoes, wasps, bees, caterpillars, spiders, snails, slugs, scorpions, and cockroaches.

'We can't even fight them with our cutlasses!' said the pirates.

The end.
